Spirit And Matter

Spirit is the essence, the active principle in every living being. Without spirit, matter can't do anything. Matter is the stuff bodies are made of, the stuff that makes up the whole universe. The difference between spirit and matter is similar to the difference between a driver and a car: Car minus driver equals "parked car."

Ron Krumpos said... The relationship between Spirit and Matter can be described in many ways. Yours is excellent. In my free ebook on comparative mysticism, "the greatest achievement in life," is a quote by Albert Einstein: "...most beautiful and profound emotion we can experience is the sensation of the mystical. It is the sower of all true science.

A Seeker's Thoughts: Spirit And Matter

Spirit is not matter. To describe "what spirit is," the best we can do is describe what spirit isn't. We live in the realm of matter. We are physical beings dwelling on a physical earth in a physical universe. All that is in the realm of matter is composed of the basic building blocks of all matter—atoms.
